RECENTLY some very curious telegraphic messages have been published in the home papers regarding the disturbances in China. Nothing need be said regarding the enterprise of the senders of these telegrams, but it is strange that the editors of the home wees do not show more scumen and reserve in dealing with the information they receive. Not the least amusing of editorial uttorances is the following from the London Star of Dec. 2:-

London, left Singapore on Dec. 30th, The Vossische Zeitung, of Barlin, has the following kindly suggestions on the Chinese question : Vibile Enropean warships are sufficient for the protection of Europeans on the coast, the projection of those in the interior can only be possible by the disembirkation of troops. The question whether Pekin is to be occupied by foreign troops will first have to be decresed, and England and France must come to an agree-

The Straits Times last week published the alarming assertion that the stock of rice in Singapore was only sufficient to supply the wants of the Colony for another fortnight getting a further supply were by no means reassuring. If that is really the case things The following telegram has been received are indeed serious. they would sooner look 'crumpled' than say so. Think of that, my dear brothers, and weep for our unworthiness that has nevertheless the making or marring of so much happiness within its power! Human nature being thus constituted, it is of importance to us to ascertain by their features, the lines upon their hands, or their handwriting, the temperaments of or three weeks, and that the prospects of these with whom we are brought into conaffections upon creatures apparently composed of flint, talk music to a person unhampered with ear, or commit any other Shillingfords a few weeks ago, had appeared solecisms either greater or less. To the better securing of this end I am laving in a lerge library, and trust soon to be in a position to renew an offer made some months ago to afford every possible information upon these and similarly important subjects. An appeal for support will subsequently be circulated, as I am auxious to repair to Kashmir, or Darjeeling, or somewhere where it is cool, next hot weather, and there to make the personal acquaintance of one or more of the Mahatmas. This I trust to manage economically by means of conveyance on astral principles, but there is at present some hitch about the luggage which it will take a little time to satisfactorily arrange. Meanwhile I have taken the precaution to have my name, profession, and address clearly painted upon my boxes in Volupuk, and every known dialect spoken between this and the confines of China, -a course which I expect will materially assist the celestial officials.

> casting horoscopes by the lines upon the hand, or of delineating character by the features or writing, is but as the alphabet of the science we are now considering. There are a few well-known rules in either case. and any person, however despairingly illiterate, can spout them upon occasion, and rake in the grateful toof. But, during my esoteric and scientific studies, I have come across two or three specimens of much more greatly daring research which I append as a sample of what may be attained in the future by perseverance and faith. For instance it is written :-- 'A woman born in April will be tall and well formed. her hair will be luxuriant, her mouth small, and her complexion good. About twenty else will have a serious illness, but will escape by reason of the cleverness of her doct rs. She will marry well after having many admirers. She will be a gr at talker, and much liked in society. but, at the same time, she will be subject to much grave scandal owing to carelessness as to public opinion. ngain: 'A we man born in March will have a fair complexion and light hair, she will will not agree, so that she will have much trouble with them; but for the rest her fortune is good.' So here we learn at once the leading facts about ladies who are born in March and April, and if they do not coincide in every particular and actual experience, why, all that can be said is-so much the worse for experience. If the well formed'; if those born in March are not the victims of scandal (and I may tolerably eafely assure any who doubt it that they are); and if those who first graced an enriched but unconscious world with their presence during April, do not marry twice and have large but quarrelsome families; I say if none of these things do indeed happen, it can only be urged that they ought to have, else what the dickens is the use of the study and labour that have been expended upon making the momentous discoveries that they should? But let me quote another case about which I ought to know something :- A man born in August will be ambitious and valiant, but a little too versatile to be successful. He will be sympathetic and give good counsel, yet will not be wise for himself. He will have a blantiful wife, whom he will tenderly love, although she will not be of an affection to nature. At about thisty he will suffer some great misfortune, but it will soon pass away.' Now, if I was born rather late on the 31st / ugust I must have gratified an expectant family circle by joining them early on the 1st September ; so that perhaps my own molancholy recollections up to date may be profitably compared to what they should have been. That I am 'ambitious' I should like to discloim, for within my experience, the word has now-a-days sunk to being merely a synonym for 'selfish'; 'valiant,' I blush-ingly admit: likewise 'versatile,' and the whole of the next sentence—(what is the use of straining at trifles?) As to the third sentence, being a Benedict of unexceptionable manner. I thought it proper to show it to the better half (like the fool that I am where self is alone concerned, as the wizard hath it). She he will have a beautiful wife, whom he On Shanghaiwill tenderly love, -and at this stage she stooped over me in a becoming attitude which shows off the long tail of her dressing gown, and caressed my right check until she discovered I had not shaved, when she said something soft but expressive. I felt as though I were in the seventh heaven, for such moments are as the caviare of existence. At this stage I should have acted with firmness and decision, taken the pro- B phecy from her, and blessing her hastily, have fled to the farthest room. Unhappily I did nothing. ### LATE TELEGRAMS.

THE HUNZA FIGHTING. Allahalad, 15th December .- The name of the officer wounded at Nilt on the 3rd instant, is now supposed to be Licutenant Gorton, of the Hazara Mountain Battery, and not Lieutenant Gordon as reported at

It appears that Lieutenant Colonel Durand, on moving out to attack Nilt, left no men behind to hold Chalt. He had this a little under one thousand men with him. Further news reached Calentta yestorday, but no new development is reported.

FATAL SHIRAR ACCIDENT. Calcutta, Dec. 15 .- A and accident is teported from Jalpaijuri, involving the death of Mr F. C. Henvey, Assistant Conservator of Forests. Mr Henvey had been denuted to the Tondu reserved forest to point out sal logs to Mossrs S. and G. Shillingford for the Duars Railway. It appears that a wild rogue elephant, which had attacked the again and the Shillingfords proposed to shoot it. They went into the forest at night with Mr Henvey, and some natives. were instructed to light fires to drive the animal. Hearing something coming towards him, Mr S. Shillingford fired and immediately afterwards found that he had shot Mr Henvey in the thigh. The wound was a serious one, and in spite of medical attendance, Mr Henvey became unconscious and died toon afterwards... THE MIRZAPORE.

Bombay, 14th December. - The Marine Court of Inquiry into the accident to the P. and O. stenmer Mirragore opened this morning. Captain Harvey's examination in chief attributed the collision with the dock-head to the pilot's miscalculation of distances. In cross-examination he said it was due to the engines not working properly, and admitted having signed a report of the pilot in which he stated the collision was due to the engines refusing to work and the anchors not being ready. Bombay, 19th December, -The Marine Court of Inquiry into the Mirzapore accident is proceeding. The Chief officer spoke to the starboard anchor being stuck at the dime and being unable to releast it. The Chief Engineer said the engines all worked well during his watch: he was surprised to hear they would not work on entering the dock. He was not on duty at the time. The delay at Port Said was not due to any accident to the engines but to a crack in the cylinder cover. THE BOMBAY MILLOWNERS.

Bombay, 16th December.—The Bombay Millowners Society met last evening to hear Dr. Bahadurji's account of his deputation to represent their interests at the Hygienic Congress. At the conclusion, Mr George Cotton, he President, said all they want in Bombay or in India was to be fairly represented in England, and the true state of factory labour to be put before the English people. The Bombay mill-owners were very much misrepresented by a gon leman, who, as Dr Bahadurji had shown, knew little or nothing of the condition of labour in this country (applause); and he believed he was correct in saying that Mr Holt Hallett had never been in an Indian mill and certainly know nothing of the conditions of labour as will be subject to illnesses which affect conduc ed in their mills. The millowners the head, but at twenty four she will get of India were called, all sorts of names and much stronger. She will marry twice and spoken of as so many slave drivers, whereas have many children in, each marriage, that the mill-owners of Rombay showed much more consideration for their employees than the other employers of labour. Many unsuccessful attempts had been made to get their case fairly represented in the nglish press, and it was not until "Dr. Bahadurji stormed the fortress of The Times, which was true to its traditions and its love for British honesty, that their case was corcharming creatures are not all 'tall and | rectly put. Merchant Vessels in Mongkong Harbour.

Exclusive of late Arrivals and Departures reported to-day.

To facilitate finding the position of any vessel in the Harbour, the Anchorage is divided into eleven Sections, commencing at Green Island. Vessels near the Hongkong shore are marked h., near the Kowleong shore k., and those in the body of the Shipping or midway between each shore are marked c., in conjunction with the figures denoting the sections.

1. From Green Island to the Gas Works. 2. From Gas Works to Jardine's Wharf. 2. From Jardine's Wharf to the Harbour Master's O fice. 4. From Harbour Master's to the P. and O. Co.'s O'lica. 5. From P. and O. Co.'s Ofice to Peddar's Wharf.

7. From Naval Yard to Blue Buildings. 8. From Blue Buildings to East Point.
9. From Kellett's Island to North Point. 10. Kowloon Wharves. 11. Jardino's Wharf.
